Who is Cui?y?

Only a short time since an order came from the east to parties in this city to rent nine small houses, suitable for families the coming winter. Scarcely a day passes but a similar order comes for one or more houses. Houses all full, and none to rent. A good reliable man informs us that his house with five rooms, cost $600, and that he can take $25 per month rent for it at any time for a year. This amounts to $300, being fifty per cent. on the investment the first year, better than money loaned at one-and-a-half or two per cent a month.

What we need is one hundred such houses erected immediately. They will all be occupied, and the parties after a few months residence here will settle with us, many perhaps permanently, and purchase property. Without these accommodations they will seek other cities having them.

Who is responsible for this criminal negligence? Is it the rich and moneyed men of our city, the Chamber of Commerce, or the strangers seeking a home among us? Let us have a House Association. At any rate more houses.

Send them Abroad.

The following little note from the Indianapolis School Superintendent, in acknowledgement of the receipt of several copies of the HERALD, will show how little is known of Los Angeles and its advantages abroad. The good people of Los Angeles should scatter its papers broadcast:

"Your tempest of good-looking and lively papers from Los Angeles took us unawares. We did not know they were so numerous nor so breezy. Good papers, good people."

This afternoon will be printed the first number of the largest and best weekly newspaper printed in Southern California. Any one desiring can obtain this first issue four copies for twenty-five cents. Five hundred should be sent abroad.

The Treaty of Washington, it will be remembered, referred the Alabama claims to the Geneva arbiters, and all other claims of the subjects of the two governments to a commission which was to meet in this country, and conclude its work before September 26th of this year. The latter body met originally in Washington, has been in session this summer at Newport, and finally closed its work on the 25th ult., having just a day to spare. The British claims which came before it for adjustment were those of British subjects against the United States Government for damages by acts of either party to the late war. The number presented was 468, and the aggregate sum claimed was about $95,000,000. Of these 181 were allowed, but in most cases only a very small fraction of the sum set forth by the claimants was awarded, and the amount allowed upon them all is only $1,929,819. The money must be paid within one year. Only 19 claims were presented by American citizens. These were for damages accruing from the Fenian raid, by the capture of vessels on Lake Erie, etc., amounting to $1,000,000, and not one of them was allowed.

A NEWSPAPER paragraph states that the New York Post has become remarkable of late for its editorial changes. William Cullen Bryant is nominally its editor, but he does not write ten lines a month. Parke Godwin, his lieutenant and son-in-law, is the real editor, though he, being in delicate health, contributes very little to the paper, and does not go to the office sometimes more than once a fortnight. The working editor is Sydney Howard Gay, formerly of the New York Tribune, and latterly of the Chicago Tribune. Godwin has not now any interest in the Post. It is owned in this wise: William Cullen Bryant holds 49 shares; Isaac Henderson, the publisher, 49, and their two daughters, Miss Julia Bryant and Miss Henderson, hold one each, making the entire 100 shares.

THE Nation calls attention to a provision in the national banking law, which seems to have been almost or totally forgotten, namely, which prohibits national banks from certifying any checks, unless the drawer has on deposit at the time "an amount of money equal to the amount specified in the check;" and subjects any bank which disregards the prohibition, to the penalty of being wound up by the comptroller. It seems, therefore that if the comptroller had done his duty, this practice of bolstering up unlawful speculations might have been stopped long ago.

THE JURY FOLLY.—The requirement of unanimity in twelve men on a jury is coming to be justly regarded as preposterous. Hallam in his "History of the Middle Ages" pronounced it so. Indeed, jury trial itself is sinking into disrepute among thoughtful men, and lawyers as well as laymen regard the system as rather a protection to criminals than society.—[New York Observer.]

PUGET SOUND at present furnishes the timber, lumber, piles and ties, for the Central Pacific Railroad. The same material is engaged for the Southern Pacific, the Peruvian, New Zealand and other railroads. The forest area from which this drain is going on is about eighty miles wide and about one hundred and fifty miles long.

Gano of Cincinnati, Holton of Milwaukee, and Tashaw of Kansas City. The committee was instructed to report in the morning.

A Washington-special says that the matter of contention between the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Treasury, which was represented at one time to have caused a little unpleasantness between these members of the Cabinet was, a short time ago, referred to the Attorney General for advice or opinion, or both. The latter returned a written answer conveying his construction of the laws governing in the case submitted, and thereupon Secretary Richardson acquiesced, and directed the issuance of a circular to allow all officials, who have official business and correspondence with U. S. Consuls abroad, instructing them to forward all correspondence, etc., to the Secretary of the Treasury in order that, as Mr. Fish contends, the same shall pass through and be examined and sent abroad by the State department.

REDDING, Oct. 23. The last of the Modocs, under command of Captain Hasbrouck, arrived this afternoon. Captain Jack's widow is dressed in deep mourning. About 30 cars are waiting to convey them to their destination.

The arrival this afternoon of the remainder of the celebrated band of Modocs, created quite a sensation. From every quarter of the country, people came expecting to see something grand, but the Modocs, though historical, are anything but attractive in appearance. The Princess Mary and the widow of Jack were the most observed. They were each arrayed in deep mourning for the death of their kindred. Hasbrouck, with 20 men of Battery B, 4th artillery, and Company G, 12th infantry, will escort them to Cheyenne. Lieuts.

He will have 800 by the time he arrives there. The Revolutionists number 400. Their movement is not seconded in the State. Pesquera expects to crush the rebellion with little if any bloodshed.

HOHENLINDEN.

A PARODY.

In mighty Wall ere gold was low,
All proudly stood Jay Cooke & Co.,
And like a torrent was the flow
Of greenbacks rolling rapidly.

But Wall street saw another sight;
When stocks went down, with money tight,
The bulls and bears began to fight,
And belched most outrageously.

Like train upon a down-hill grade,
To draw his cash each man essayed,
And furious every broker brayed,
To swell the fearful devilry.

Then shook the banks by panic riven!
Then rushed their dupes like maniacs
Driven?
To every bank beneath the heaven,
For flashed the electricity.

But higher yet shall greenbacks go,
And faster yet the throngs shall flow,
And deeper yet shall be the woe
Of swindled, duped depositors.

'Tis done! and greenbacks ninety-two,
The broken brokers all look blue;
And furious Gould and pious Drew,
Like Modocs, howl incessantly,
The tumult deepens! On, ye brave
Depositors, if ye would save
Your greenbacks from the tidal wave,
And draw them forth immediately.
Ah! few shall win when brokers cheat,
And spread their snares for thoughtless
fool,
And every safe within the street
Shall be a greenback sepulchre.

Arizona News.

The Prescott Miner, of the 18th instant, furnished the annexed budget of news:

General Crook returned to Headquarters on Tuesday. The rumor that he had been lost in the mountains for several days, arose from the fact that while out hunting one day, he got too far away from camp to find his way back before dark, and so camped where he was when darkness set in.

Colonel Crittenden, Captain Pollock, and Lieutenants Ward, Fleming, Bishop and Eaton, were passengers by the Newberne which sailed from San Francisco on the 4th instant. They are en route to their stations, and bring a detachment of recruits for companies serving in the Department.

General Dana has transferred the property pertaining to Whipple Depot, to Colonel Bird, Adjutant of the Twenty-third Infantry.

The War Department telegraphs that the Indian Department have decided to remove the Wallapai Indians from their present location, near Beale Spring, to the Colorado River Reservation.

Assistant Surgeon Lippincott has been ordered from Lowell to Headquarters, for temporary duty.

Work on the telegraph line is progressing favorably.

The brothers Burkamp are manufacturing syrup from sorghum near Phoenix. The product from the first acre was 100 gallons.

D. W. Shivers, Geo. Cary and I. Skillin, have seen Indians, close to Prescott, in the last ten days. An Indian or Indians tried to corral Shivers, late last week, as that gentleman was driving to town, from Chino valley. On relating this fact to the military authorities, Captain Burns took some men and went after the savages, but found none.

The latest news from Verde, is, that not more than 50 Apache-Tontos remain on the reservation.

Recently Indians killed some cattle belonging to Geo. W. Hance. This was near Camp Verde.

Some Indians, accused of murder, are to be brought here from Camp Apache and tried.

MINING NEWS.—Caldwell Wright, of Cerbat, favors us with the following: The Hibernia, recently sold to Wm. H. Raymond, is now under the superintendence of L. B. Seaver; and is in course of active development, producing tons of rich ore daily, and has already twenty tons of ore on the bank of the Colorado for shipment by steamer.

The Daisy Dean, adjoining the Hibernia on the north, has been recently sold in San Francisco for $25,000, and work will soon commence upon it.

The Billy Eagle has ten tons of rich ore out, ready for shipment, that will average $400 per ton.

The Arnold and Magendie have shipped five tons of ore, and are now erecting an aqueduct to work their rock on the ground.

The Congress has out seven or eight tons of $800 rock, ready for shipment. These are only a few of the many mines that are taking out ore on the Hope ledge, in Cedar district. Nearer home but little is doing. The Ida and Rhoda Lewis, and the Cupel and Tiger have shut down. The Cupel shipped eight or ten tons of fine ore on the last steamer. Their superintendent is in San Francisco, preparing to go vigorously to work.

The "63" is looking remarkably well and Colonel Riley is actively developing it. The pay ore is fifteen to eighteen inches wide, and is pronounced by all $1,000 rock. They have six or seven tons on the dump. The last shipment sent to San Francisco, was sold for over $900 per ton.

The New York Wool Market.

There has been a slight improvement in the demand during the last three days, but dealers are, as a whole, still unwilling to sell, unless for cash or on short notice. Manufacturers generally cannot meet their demands, and consequently no large business is looked for until money becomes easier and confidence is again restored. Stocks of nearly all descriptions of both foreign and domestic wools are very light, and should an active demand spring up we should have to look to neighboring markets for supplies. Several lots of new fall clip California have arrived here, and this kind is quoted at 21¢@22¢ for burry, and 20¢@21¢ for free; but as yet no sales have been effected. Sales of 19,000 lbs and 19 bales of burry spring are reported at 22¢@27¢; 51 bales of spring, private. The Boston market is steady, California sells fairly; some has sold at good prices. Spring wool is firm. Sales of 17,000 lbs are reported at 26¢@28¢. Of fall, 50,000 lbs have been sold on private terms; 26,500 lbs secured, 75¢@85¢. Advices from London show that an advance of 1¢@1d has been established in New Zealand. Nothing has been bought on American account.
